Tax Increase Bill Studied By Committee

Over Seven Billions Each Year

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP)—The House ways and means committee drove toward its final decisions today on a bill to increase taxes by $7,500,000,000 a year.

Proposed increases in the excise taxes on gasoline, automobiles and some household appliances remained to be ratified, along with a proposal to broaden the base for the excess profits tax on corporations. All have been approved in previous tentative votes.

Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said he is hopeful the committee can complete its work today. The bill still must pass the House and Senate.

A proposed new ten percent tax on gambling and several hundred million dollars in additional excise taxes were clinched into the committee bill yesterday.

These included:

Cigarettes, rate of seven cents a pack raised to eight.

Whiskey and other hard liquor, from $9 a 100-proof gallon to $10.50.

Beer, from $8 a barrel to $9.

Wine, up an average of 12½ percent.

Diesel fuel to be taxed two cents a gallon when used in highway vehicles.

The wagering tax would be ten percent on the gross receipts of professional bookmakers and of the operators of lotteries, policy wheels ("numbers") and pools on sporting events.

Huge Supplies Are Abandoned By Red Army

"Iron Triangle" Is Being Mopped Up By Allied Forces

By OLEN CLEMENTS

TOKYO, June 13—(AP)—Allied infantrymen today fought a "bouncing battle" over the ridges of eastern Korea against retreating Reds.

The mountain warfare followed a uniform pattern, bouncing from ridge to ridge.

United Nations forces attacked. North Koreans, entrenched on hilltops and supported by artillery and mortar fire, halted them. UN air strikes and artillery then blasted the Reds. Communists pulled back to the next ridge.

There the same performance was repeated.

The ridge climbers drove forward to straighten out the Allied battleline. Their immediate objective was to catch up with spearheads probing through the shattered Red "iron triangle", 20 miles north of the 38th Parallel on the western front.

While UN patrols uncovered more abandoned stockpiles at the base of the triangle, warplanes hammered at Red efforts to drag equipment out of the top.

Tank-led forces fanned out three miles and more beyond the front lines around Chorwon and Kumhwa, former anchors of the road hub area. They found and blew up 4,000 rounds of Chinese artillery and mortar shells near Kumhwa. Another large cache was demolished near Chorwon.

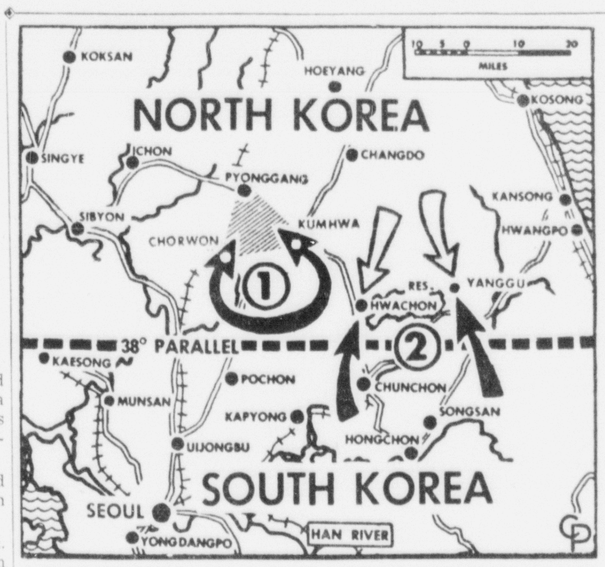

Patrols smacked into entrenched Chinese each side of the triangle. They blocked the roads toward Kumsong, new Chinese base to the east. They fought probing efforts toward the Imjim on the west, beyond which Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet said the Reds "would be in a fairly secure position."

Moscow radio said the Communists blocked UN attacks all along the front Tuesday and shot down four Allied planes.

There were no such Allied reports. But Red jets made harmless passes at Allied bombers far from the Manchurian border. The Far East Air Forces said the jets didn't shoot. Five jets were involved in such passes, four of them over the east coast port of Wonsan.

Wonsan, under blockade of the UN fleet for four months, lies at the head of Pyonggang valley running due north from the former iron triangle.

Carrier planes from the U. S. S. Bon Hamme Richard blew up an ammunition dump near the port city.

COMMUNIST FORCES continued to flee under fire as Allied occupation troops began taking over Chorwon and Kumhwa (1), key anchors of the Red "Iron Triangle." Greek, Turkish, Filipino and Thailand soldiers took part in this major victory which sent the Chinese Red Army reeling from the North Korean gateway. Vast amounts of supplies were abandoned by the enemy. In the east Communist resistance in the Hwachon Reservoir section (2) was reported decreasing as U.N. troops advanced.

Governor Has Vetoed Bill For Attorneys

Turnpike Measure Was Storm Center From First

COLUMBUS, June 13—(AP)—Gov. Frank J. Lausche today vetoed a bill which would have authorized the attorney general to hire attorneys for the turnpike commission.

The governor explained that to allow the bill to become law would "positively delay and probably completely defeat the building of a much needed turnpike in Ohio."

He added:

"It will increase the cost of the turnpike, reduce the number of prospective bidders on the bonds that must be sold to finance the project, create political influences in the development of the project, and in its business policies take control from the turnpike commissioners over the conduct and services of legal counsel, and bring about new litigation concerning the constitutionality of the new law."

The proposal to give the attorney general the right to hire the attorneys for the Turnpike Commission was introduced late in the legislative session and immediately became a storm-center of partisan debate.

The measure itself is simple enough. It takes just one word out of the law establishing the commission. In the section of the law listing the types of employes the commission may hire, the act Lausche vetoed deletes the word "attorneys".

Under Atty. Gen. C. William O'Neill's recent opinion, the attorney general already is the commission's chief legal adviser. Therefore, the new act automatically would have given the right to hire commission attorneys to the attorney general.

The cry of "job-grab" went up from the Democrats as soon as the bill was introduced. Some called it a ripper bill.

The measure squeezed through the Senate with 18 votes--only one more than a constitutional majority.

Sen. Ralph Winter (R-Medina), a leading advocate of toll superhighways in past legislatures, led Senate opposition to the attorney general bill. He said it divided turnpike authority between the commission and the attorney general, and declared:

"If you weaken the commission's authority, if you fog the responsibility investors may demand a higher interest rate on turnpike bonds: That may mean the difference between building and no building turnpikes."

More Beef on Hoof Is Now Reaching Big Shipping Yards of the Midwest

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP)—Rotund Price Director Michael V. DiSalle was "very happy"--stockyard cattle pens that had begun to have the empty look of hunger were better occupied.

And in Denver last night, DiSalle said he was getting ready to roll back clothing prices -- "in a day or two." He told a reporter the clothing order will cover all forms of wearing apparel.

Wilson stepped squarely behind his price director yesterday, announcing DiSalle's order rolling back the price of beef on the hoof will stand unaltered.

Senate Majority Leader McFarland, of Arizona, told newsmen after a conference with President Truman that in a radio address line" for firm economic controls. McFarland did not elaborate.

Reports from 12 cattle markets showed 36,800 animals shipped to stockyards compared to 26,512 a tomorrow night (9:30 P. M., EST) the president will "lay it on the

Bomb Red Rail Line, Gen. Wedemeyer Says

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP)—Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer recommended today the United States bomb the Manchurian railroad controlled jointly by Russia and Red China. He conceded it might touch off a world war but said that "calculated risk" should be taken.

Testifying at the Senate's MacArthur inquiry, Wedemeyer said he recognized such action to carry the Korean fight to Red China "might result in a war," he added:

"It is a calculated risk that personally I would recommend we accept."

Wedemeyer supports generally the proposals of Gen. Douglas MacArthur to bomb Manchurian bases and supply lines.

And he named the railroad as a proper objective for attack.

But in response to questions by Senator Kefauver (D-Tenn) he declined to specify what cities, supply depots and arsenals he thinks should be targets.

Wedemeyer said only the commanding general in the field could make such decisions.

"If I occupied General Van Fleet's position, I could answer that question intelligently and immediately," Wedemeyer said. "But I cannot answer from this position. I am not acquainted enough with the situation in that area. The military commander there is."

Lt. Gen James A. Van Fleet is the U. S. commanding general in Korea.

Kefauver asked if Mukden, Port Arthur and Dairen would be proper targets. Russia has concessions in Port Arthur and Dairen.

"I would feel that I am not qualified to answer that question, sir," Wedemeyer replied. "That is a very important question and should be answered by the military commander on the ground.

Kefauver asked if bombing these bases would be an "act of war against the Soviet Union."

"No, sir," Wedemeyer said.

Kefauver noted the Soviets have joint control of the Manchurian railroad.

Wedemeyer said when the Russians shot down a U. S. naval plane in the Baltic area several years ago "our investigators proved conclusively that our naval bomber was not over Soviet territory at all."

"However," he added, "it was shot down by Soviet planes and that was tantamount to an act of war or could be interpreted so."

Earlier, Wedemeyer told the senators his four State Department advisers in China in 1944 and 1945 were "very critical" of the Chinese Nationalist government but made "favorable" reports on activities of the Communists.

Russians Turn Back Exports

Allies Made New Berlin Protest

BERLIN, June 13—(AP)—Ignoring Allied protests, the Russians turned back hundreds of west Berlin export shipments today in a move which threatened to become an economic blockade of this Soviet-surrounded city.

Western Allied officials talked of shutting off vital supplies to east Germany in retaliation, if the Russians refused to yield.

"But we are still hopeful," one high American official said. "We are just sitting tight waiting for a Russian reply to our protest."

The protest was against the new Russian regulation requiring west Berlin manufacturers to show the origin of their strategic raw materials before they can ship their finished products through the Russian zone to the west.

The United States, Britain and France declared two days ago that the Russians had no right to demand such information and told the west Germany city government to refuse it.

Soviet authorities promptly rejected all export permits lacking the information they demanded and have so far ignored an Allied request for cancellation of the regulation.

Draft Evasion Case Dismissed by Judge

DAYTON, June 13—(AP)—Federal Judge Robert R. Nevin tossed a draft evasion case out of court yesterday on the grounds the draft board did not follow Selective Service regulations.

The case involved Howard Brown, Jr., of Dayton. He was charged with refusing to report for induction last Nov. 16.

District Attorney Ray J. O'Donnell requested the dismissal after a jury had been hearing testimony for a day and one-half.

He said the draft board had made two oversights: it had not sent Brown a form he could fill out to show he objected to the draft, and there was a question as to whether Brown was notified when he was classified.

Brown first placed in 4-F as physically unfit but later determined to be fit for military service and put in 1-A.

Judge Nevin sentenced Kenneth H. Champney of Yellow Springs to five years in prison for evading the draft. Champney is former plant manager of the Yellow Springs News.

Two Jets Collide In Rhode Island

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 13—(AP)—Two air force Saber jets met in a roaring airborne collision today and both pilots were injured after parachuting into a field near the village of Abbott Run.

The F-86 planes were out of Otis Airforce Base at Falmouth, Mass.

The fliers were taken to Notre Dame Hospital in Central Falls.

The airforce identified them as Lt. M. A. Corba, 23, Belleville, O., (Richland County) and Lt. L. R. Kirby, 24, Burlington, Vt. Corba was a veteran of the Korean air war.

They were on maneuvers with the 33rd fighter interceptor wing.

Corba holds the Korean medal with three battle stars, the Distinguished Flying Cross with one oak leaf cluster and the air medal with six oak leaf clusters.

Iranian Soldier Is Killed by Russians

TEHRAN, Iran, June 13—(AP)—An authoritative government source said today an Iranian frontier patrol soldier was shot and killed by Russians along the border east of the Caspian Sea.

The informant said an Iranian military commission was sent to the frontier to investigate the incident, which took place three days ago. He said the Russians reported the soldier was shot because he was found on the Soviet side of the frontier.

There have been a number of clashes between Soviet and Iranian troops in the past few years in border areas.

The new incident came, however, at a time of great tension in Iran, where much agitation against all foreigners is being carried on. The British ambassador, Sir Francis Shepherd, has just warned Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh that continued Iranian propaganda against the British may touch off a powder keg of violence against all foreigners in the southern oil field areas.

Prince Aly Kahn To Visit America Soon

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP)—Prince Aly Khan, estranged husband of actress Rita Hayworth, is expected here for a 10-day visit with a "full entourage" late this month, the Times-Herald said today.

The prince will arrive June 26 and stay at the Wardman Park Hotel, the Herald said.

The hotel, asked if reservations had been made for the prince, would not comment.

Girl Tells Story Of How Narcotics Wrecked Her Life

NEW YORK, June 13—(AP)—A 16-year-old girl's dramatic tape-recorded story of how narcotics led her to prostitution and thievery today opened a state hearing into dope traffic among teen-agers.

Hushed spectators in the hearing room heard her tell how she first tried drugs as a lark at the age of 13 while attending a dance.

"It was during my summer vacation", said anonymous girl. "At this dance one of the fellows that I met was smoking a reefer. He asked me if I would like to smoke one.

"I was curious and said I would like to and so I smoked one."

And then another and another, four months later she tried cocaine. Five months after that she was sniffing heroin.

How the drugs had become a habit, and funds to purchase them became a problem.

She and a boy friend broke into a house in their Bronx neighborhood in search of money. They were caught, and she was sent to a mental institution for six months.

On her release, she took up with another boy and began using drugs again.

"My boy friend supplied me whenever he could with heroin," she said. "We would go out together and get high. I used to sleep with him whenever we got high."

The next step, she said, was a sex relationship with an older man to obtain money for drugs.

Ending her story with a note of hope, she said she now had met a boy who took a "sincere interest" in her and that she was trying to break the drug habit.

$6,000,000 Contract

COLUMBUS, June 13— (AP) — The Cleveland Ordnance district yesterday said the Kilgore Manufacturing Co., of nearby Westerville has been awarded a $6,000,000 contract to assemble illuminating shells for parachute flares.

Truman Hits Traffic Toll

Accidents Weaken National Strength

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP)—President Truman told safety officials today "a highway accident does just as much damage to the defense effort as a deliberate act of sabotage by hostile agents."

At a time when the United States and its Allies face a "great danger," he said, highway accidents "strike directly at our national strength."

The president made the statement in a speech prepared for the annual highway safety conference in Constitution Hall. He cautioned that skyrocketing motor travel has raised the prospect that automobile fatalities this year may exceed the 35,000 of 1950.

Mr. Truman paid tribute to Maj. Gen. Philip B. Fleming, newly appointed ambassador to Costa Rica, and chairman of the conference since its beginning in 1946. Fleming was absent because of illness. Secretary of Commerce Sawyer presided.

The president told the conference of nearly 4,000 gathered from all over the country that the defense program depends upon efficient transportation. Observers from 65 foreign nations were also present. Others included representatives of farm, youth and women's organizations.

"Traffic accidents slow down production and weaken our whole economy," Mr. Truman said. "They are a sheer economic waste."

To Check Auto Sales

COLUMBUS, June 13— (AP) — The state sales tax division has assigned examiners to seven large counties to keep a closer check on casual sales of automobiles in Ohio. Sales of cars by persons other than dealers now are subject to the three percent state sales tax.

Negroes Arrested Following Murder

CLEVELAND, June 13 —(AP)—Police arrested four Negroes, three men and a woman, today after a Wickliffe, O. motorcyclist was shot to death in front of Glen's Bar B-Q.

The dead man was James Smith, 21, who was white, only son of Arthur Smith, a plumbing contractor in Wickliffe. He was killed by a bullet fired from a moving automobile.

Police said the Negroes entered the bar and a number of whites there started making slurring remarks about their color. The Negroes yelled back at them, then left.

A group of the motorcyclists were standing in front of the bar later. A car drove by and six bullets were fired into the crowd.

Man Hurt in Crash With Pick-up Truck

James Wayne Fultz, 27, of Greenfield and known in Fayette County, received cuts about his head and face, and his car was badly damaged in an accident near Xenia Tuesday about 6 P. M.

Fultz's car, a 1951 Ford, and a pick-up truck driven by Eddie Berger, 17, of Xenia, collided on the Ledbetter Road just southwest of the corporation limits of Xenia.

Berger was not injured in the collision, but the front end of his truck was damaged.

Fultz is married to the former Lila Lee VanPelt, formerly of Washington C. H.

Meanderings

By Wash Fayette

Thanks to Glenda Gilmore, 1114 Delaware Street, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Gilmore, I have added another insect to the number I am able to identify.

When Glenda brought to this office a bottle containing a grayish worm about the size of a match stick, three quarters of an inch in length and with a tail nearly as long as its body, I was unable to identify it.

I called my friend Edward S. Thomas, curator of natural history, Ohio State Archaeological and Historical Society, and Ed asked two or three questions, then gave me the identification.

The worm is known as a rat-tailed maggot (not a very pleasant name) or the larva of the syrphus fly or drone fly, which feeds in stagnant water and putrefying matter.

The tubular, telescopic tail is used for drawing air from the surface to the submerged body of the insect.

Glenda said it was drawing ants with its tail, but in all probability the ants were endeavoring to devour the worm, which must have been out of its usual habitat.

The drone fly, parent of the rat-tailed maggot, or larva, is so called by reason of its resemblance to the drone honeybee, and it was the drone fly seen about carrion back in the darker ages which gave rise to the belief that honey bees sprung from carrion.

Now then the next rat-tailed larva you meet, you will be able to identify it!

Economy Bloc Making More Cuts

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP)—A Senate economy bloc triumphant in its initial efforts plans to hack away further today at a battered $2,528,338,000 labor department - federal security agency money bill.

The biggest proposed cuts in the measure still are pending.

The economy group secured adoption yesterday by a decision 58 to 24 vote of its chief objective--a ten percent cut in the two agencies' payrolls in the fiscal year starting July 1.

The ten percent reduction in all personnel items was written into the labor-federal security measure in an amendment sponsored by Senator Ferguson (R-Mich). It cut the president's budget for the items by $$11,700,000.

Ferguson plans to offer the same cut to all of the 11 remaining fiscal 1952 regular funds bills with the possible exception of the defense department bill. The labor-federal security measure is the first one to come before the Senate this year.

If applied across the board to all agencies, the amendment would affect about 240,000 federal jobs. There now are more than 2,400,000 U. S. civilian employes. Ferguson estimated the money savings of a ten percent cut in all agencies would run between $500,000,000 and $800,000,000. He said it was impossible to give an exact figure because there would be exemptions. Federal hospital employes were not included in the cut in the federal-labor-federal security bill.

Twenty-one Democrats, including Chairman McKellar (D-Tenn) of the appropriations committee, joined with 37 Republicans to put over the Ferguson amendment. Only two Republicans, Senators Cordon (Ore.) and Aiken (Vt.) voted against it.

Tentative Plan Submitted For Helping Health Dept.

Ulric Acton, county auditor, presented a tentative plan for replacing $3,000 recent cut from the federal-state grant to the Fayette County Health Department during a special meeting of the advisory Health Board Tuesday evening in the city council chambers.

The decrease in the Health Department funds was caused when it was announced that the federal-state share of the health funds for Fayette County would be cut annually from approximately $8,000 to $3,750.

As the Health Department budget now stands, there will be a $1,000 deficit during the last six months of this year, if the department is to continue its present scope of duties.

In order to meet this deficit, Acton suggests in his plan that the $1,000 be taken from the general fund from receipt of sales tax balance.

The tentative plan set up by Acton would, as he puts it, spread the increased cost so that everybody could help a little.

This money would be given to the various townships, villages and cities who would in turn use it to make up the deficit.

The same procedure would be used to erase the $2,000 deficit the first six months of next year.

Both the townships and villages would put forth 50 percent of the money and the city of Washington C. H. would give the other 50 percent.

Acton said that by the end of June he would have some idea of the expected receipts and a clearer picture of how city village and township budgets are working out for the last six months of the year.

After he has a better idea of the overall cost he will then complete his plan and present it to the

Sentenced To Die

KENTON, June 13 — (AP) — Judge Arthur D. Tudor yesterday sentenced Chester B. Gregg, 57, to die in Ohio penitentiary's electric chair Oct. 1 for slaying his wife whom he met through one of the "lonely hearts" clubs. Gregg was convicted Thursday of first degree murder with no mercy recommendation. His estranged wife, Mrs. Loraine Alma Golliday Gregg, 46, was shot to death last March 21 outside their apartment.

Lions Club Buys Needy Glasses

Charter Night Held At Country Club

The Washington C. H. Lions Club spent $424.50 for 81 pairs of glasses for needy residents of this city during the past 11 months, according to a report made at the annual Charter Night held Tuesday night at the Country Club.

Robert Sanderson, secretary, also reported that the Lions Club paid University Hospital $65 for an eye operation performed on a resident of Fayette County.

Funds for the sight conservation work performed during 1950 was paid for out of the proceeds from such money-making projects as race programs for the Fair, Lions minstrel and sponsorship of the Johnny Godfrey Dance Revue.

The Lions Club raised the following amounts from its principal financial ventures during 1950-51: sale of race programs at County Fair, $621.29; Lions minstrel, $750.29, and Godfrey Dance Revue, $96.25.

Report was made that the Lions Club of this city now has 100 members and that during the past year its average attendance at meetings was 74.5 percent. Forty-eight members had a perfect attendance during the past year, it was reported.

Actually the annual report was not the highlight of the meeting so far as Lions members and their women guests were concerned. Rather, they were interested more in the dancing, the dinner and the pleasant social aspects of the evening.

Don Gibson served as master-of-ceremonies for the program. Both Emerson Marting, new president, and Walter Rettig, outgoing president of the club, gave short talks.

Besides the women guests, other guests included District Governor Clarence G. Stuckey of Jeffersonville and Deputy District Governor Robert Moorman, of Jamestown.

There were approximately 100 Lions Club members and guests present for the gala Charter Night.

Meantime, plans are being made by the Lions Club to help in erecting markers and tents at the First Annual Soil Conservation Field Day. The Lions Club will have an ice cream and soft drink concession at the Field Day, too.

Grange Plans To Hold Picnic July 1

Members of the Forest Shade Grange made plans for a picnic to be held at Gold Cliff on Sunday, July 1, during their meeting Tuesday evening in the New Martinsburg Grange Hall.

During the evening the third and fourth degrees were presented. Mrs. Robert Creamer was the master for the third degree and Nathaniel Tway was master of the fourth degree.

Those who took part in the impressive ceremonies included; Mrs. Edward Lee Carson, Mrs. Russell Grice, Mrs. C. A. Wilson, Miss Margaret Alice Patton, Mrs. Frank McCoppin, Miss Louise Ritter and Mrs. Robert Ritter.

The refreshment committee for the evening was; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Creamer, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Creamer, Dr. and Mrs. John Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. George Pleasant, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Caplinger, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Shaper, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hendrix and Mrs. Elizabeth Devins.

The next regular meeting of the grange group will be in the grange hall on Tuesday, July 11.

Essay Winners Complete Tour

Two-Day Trip Is Made Through Ohio

Eight Fayette County youths who were winners of the Farm Bureau-sponsored soil conservation essay contest and their chaperones returned home Tuesday night with a lot of memories of a two-day tour in Ohio.

They had an opportunity to see at first hand some of the near miracles which soil conservation can bring. The tour was paid for by the Fayette Farm Bureau.

One of the most interesting stops was at the U. S. Hydrological Station near Coshocton where the government has balanced 65 tons of soil on scales which will measure even such things as dew fall.

They also had an opportunity to talk with C. D. Blubaugh of the famous "rags to riches" Blubaugh farm. He spent about 20 minutes with the group telling them how soil conservation pays off.

Those making the tour were as follows: Grace Anne Mowery and Betty Grimm, both of Jeffersonville; Joanne and Larry Cleland, both of Bloomingburg; Clara Mae Walter and Helen Ward, both of Madison Mills, and Betty McFadden and Allan Wilt, both of Good Hope.

The group started their tour from Washington C. H. at 8 A. M. Monday, going to Columbus where they visited the Farm Bureau Insurance building and ate lunch in the Farm Bureau cafeteria at the Farm Bureau's expense.

From there they went to the Hydrological station, then to the farm of Russell Hoy, chaplain of the Ohio State Grange and writer in the "Ohio Farmer."

They stayed in the Parkway Motel near Coshocton. The next morning they visited at the Schoenbrunn State Park and stopped at Dover Dam, a soil conservation project.

From there they went to Zoar Village, visited at Fort Laurens then the Beach City Dam, returning to Washington C. H. on Route 62.

Accompanying the youths were Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Smith, Ben Glover and Melvin Helsel.

Last Rites Read For Mrs. VanZant

Rev. Harold J. Braden conducted funeral services for Mrs. Lois Ruth VanZant Tuesday at 2 P. M. in the First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Braden read an obituary and the Scripture and offered a prayer. He also read the hymn, "God Will Take Care of You," and the 23rd Psalm.

Mrs. Marion Gage played the organ before the services and one selection, "Ivory Palaces," to open the service.

Pallbearers for Mrs. VanZant were: Harry Silcott, Leslie Canup, Clarence Dresbaugh, Lewis Dean, Frank Patton and Guy Patton.

Burial was in the Washington C. H. Cemetery under the direction of the Parrett Funeral Home.

budget committee for their approval.

"We have one of the best health departments in the state and we don't want to have to go backwards if we can help it," Acton said.

Besides the members of the advisory council, made up of the heads of the boards of township trustees, village mayors and the Washington C. H. city manager, Dr. Gordon Savage head of the local health department and O. M. Landrum of the county health board were present.

Rites for Korean Casualty To Be Held

Funeral services for Pfc. Glenn D. Curry will be held at 2 P. M. Thursday at the Parrett Funeral Home, with Rev. Francis T. McCarty in charge. Military services, under the direction of VFW Post No. 3762, will be held at the graveside. Friends may call at any time. He was the second youth killed in action in Korea to be returned to the United States.

Legs of Aged Man Broken in Freak Mishap

Jacob A. Flax, 75, employe of the Jeffersonville Auto Co. is in Memorial Hospital suffering from badly fractured legs sustained in a freak accident at Jeffersonville late Wednesday forenoon.

Flax and John Warnock were standing in front of the door of the Jeffersonville Auto Co. garage when an automobile owned by James Norbert Reau, Columbus, slipped its brakes, ran down the street with no one at the wheel, and crushed Flax against the door of the garage.

Both legs were fractured, and he was given first aid by Dr. Payton, then rushed to Memorial Hospital in the Morrow ambulance.

Deputy Sheriff Roy Underwood investigated the mishap.

The car had been parked with the emergency brake drawn, but it failed to hold the car, and it started down street, wheeling into the doorway.

Warnock escaped by leaping aside.

Blessed Events

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Lunsford, Route 4, Washington C. H., are the parents of a nine pound son, born in Memorial Hospital, Tuesday at 8:41 P. M.

Abundant Hot Water
TOPS THE LIST OF HOMEMAKING HELPS!
Going to have a new electric dishwasher? A new washing machine? Fine! You will find the new models have many refinements you will appreciate. They are sturdy, too, and will give years and years of trouble-free service. But how about your automatic hot water supply?
For that modern dishwasher and the newest home laundry equipment you are going to buy you will need an adequate and dependable supply of hot water such as an automatic gas water heater of adequate capacity will provide.
While you are modernizing, plan to do a complete job. Install a new gas water heater with thermostatically controlled storage tank—heated by economical natural gas. Enjoy an abundance of hot water for home laundering, for housecleaning, for daily baths and showers, and for using the new dishwasher. Few pieces of equipment are as important to the smooth running of household affairs as the automatic water heater.

The World Today

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON, June 13—(AP)—There's talk around here now that President Truman is going to start fighting back at the critics of his administration. If he does, it will be a sort of change of pace.

This talk seems to have sprung up over the weekend after a White House announcement he would make a radio-TV speech to the nation Thursday night, urging that price and wage and other controls be continued by Congress beyond June 30.

It will be the president's first major speech to the nation since April 11 when he took to the air to explain why he had just fired General MacArthur. Fighting talks by the president in the past year or so have been infrequent.

In fact, talks by the president even explaining policies have been fairly infrequent leaving a big vacuum that has provided plenty of room for his critics.

In the past year or so criticism has piled up on his administration. It reached a climax with the public acclaim given McArthur when he returned home.

And since then Mr. Truman's Republican critics in particular have continued to sharpshoot at him and members of his administration. The tone of that criticism gets less polite as time goes on, with words like "dishonest" being thrown around.

When the history of these times is written it may show the Truman administration went on the defensive when Senator McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, began making broad charges of Communism in the State Department, with Secretary of State Acheson the particular target of his attack.

What a sustained counterattack by the Trumanites might have accomplished will have to remain one of the unanswered questions of history. But there certainly has been no attempt at such a counterattack.

There's been some comment here that Acheson, in his testimony at the Senate inquiry into MacArthur's firing, was aggressive, for a change. He answered questions firmly but it's debatable whether that could be called aggressive.

President Truman seemed pleased with Acheson's performance. He publicly pronounced a blessing of well done and said Acheson would remain as his secretary of state.

Compared with the attacks made on him, Acheson's answers were mild, indeed. It's possible he doesn't feel he should reply to his critics with the same terse toughness they turned loose on him, for at one place he said:

"Criticism is something which I have to bear as an occupational hazard and I am quite ready to bear it."

Mr. Truman himself certainly is capable of vigorous answers as he demonstrated when he successfully campaigned for the presidency in 1948. Since then he has been quieter.

It may have been his deliberate policy to stand back and say comparatively little, believing the criticism would blow itself out of its own accord in time. Certainly the public uproar over McCarthy's charges has died down.

And there's less interest evident now in the MacArthur inquiry than in the first week or so of it. The public has been drenched in the 1,500,000 words of testimony, spread over five weeks of hearings.

In a country like this, where sensation seems to follow sensation--each in turn submerged in the language of argument--it may be that the public loses interest in one sensation as it turns to another.

June 31 Deadline For Veterans Aid

Disabled veterans of World War II who may be entitled to government financial aid in acquiring an automobile or other conveyance were reminded today by the Veterans Administration that the deadline for applications under existing law is June 30.

The law provides that VA shall pay up to $1600 toward the purchase price of a car, truck, tractor or other automotive conveyance for a World War II veteran who lost or lost the use of one or both legs at or above the ankle due to service.

VA said every effort would be made to act on all claims received prior to the expiration of the law on June 30 but advised eligible veterans to get their applications in as early as possible to be on the safe side.

Three Fayette Men Enlist in Air Corps

Staff Sergeant James C. Kelly, of the local U. S. army and U. S. air force recruiting station, announced today that three men from this area enlisted during the past week in the U. S. air force.

The were: Harry W. Massie and Ronald R. McCoy, both of Washington C. H. and Robert C. Conaway of Good Hope.

They have been sent to the indoctrination division, Lackland Air Force Base, at San Antonio, Tex., for basic training.

Upon completion of basic training they plan to attend the aircraft and engine mechanic school for further training in their chosen career.

Salads Are Discussed By Busy Madison Girls

The girls also reported progress on all of their other club projects.

Following a recreation period, refreshments were served.

McNair Bible School Is To Start Monday

The Vacation Bible School of McNair Presbyterian Memorial Church is scheduled to start next Monday and continue through June 23.

Classes are to open at 9:30 A. M. each of the six days and close at 11:30 A. M.

Plans call for the classes for all ages of youngsters, from preschool age through the eighth grade.

The school will be under the supervision of Mrs. Robert Andrews. She is to be assisted by these instructors: Mrs. Fred Cahall, Mrs. Martin O'Cull, Mrs. Robert Hyer, Mrs. Marvin Waddle, Mrs. Frank Dellinger and Mrs Emmett Backenstoe.

The announcement of the dates said "plans call for making this a very interesting week of Bible school."

On the Sunday night after the school closes, June 24, a program is to be given in the church for the public. The purpose of this program, it was explained, is to show what has been accomplished during the week of Bible study by the young people.

Leading Demonstrated For Madison Feeders

Boys and girls of the many 4-H clubs in the county today are moving into the final phases of preparations for exhibiting their livestock at the Fair the last week of July.

At the last meeting of the Madison Feeders, Bob and Ellen Belt, at whose home the clubbers gathered, gave a demonstration of calf leading.

The club also worked on the record books.

Refreshments were served after the meeting.

YBM Holds Picnic

Some 20 YBM members and their wife guests enjoyed a potluck supper at the shelter house in Washington Park Monday evening. The affair was the first of its kind ever held by the Young Business Men. Reports from those who attended the potluck indicated that the food was excellent.

Iran Soothes Worry Over Oil Supplies

TEHRAN, Iran, June 13—(AP)—Prime Minister Mohammed Mossadegh has assured President Truman Iran's plans to nationalize her oil industry will not jeopardize the world's oil supply, nor imperil international harmony.

The statesman sent these assurances in a lengthy letter transmitted to Washington yesterday through the U. S. Embassy.

The contents of Mossadegh's letter were disclosed as top officials of Britain's Anglo-Iranian Oil Company planned courtesy calls on government heads here prior to the opening of talks on the nationalization of Iran's oil industry operated by the company.

Mossadegh's letter was in reply to President Truman's recent appeal to Iran and Britain for moderation and reasonable negotiations on the explosive oil issue.

Can you beat this measure of car value?
Of standard built cars used as taxicabs, there are far more Plymouths than any other make...in fact, there are more Plymouths than all other makes combined!

Those who own taxicabs are experts on car value. They have to be! Their very living depends on their judgment in selecting the right car.

This selection is not made on "hunch" or "sentiment" or loyalty to any make.

In the cold light of fact, taxicab owners test all makes of cars for everything—roominess, riding comfort, handling ease, braking action, maintenance cost, day and night dependability—everything!

As the result of these continuous tests, the overwhelming majority of taxicab owners say: "The car for our money is Plymouth!"

Isn't this pretty convincing proof that Plymouth is the car for your money, too? But you don't have to take somebody else's word for it. Your Plymouth dealer will gladly arrange a demonstration now. Then you can put the Plymouth through your own tests and see for yourself.

What Does "Old Glory" Really Mean To Us?

Tomorrow is Flag Day.

What does it mean to most of us? What significance does this have in a day of world confusion and the seeming increase in worship of money as against national and international patriotism and morality?

Has real patriotism given way to indifference and complete selfishness for most people?

June 14 is the time when we are supposed to pay annual salute to the Stars and Stripes and the 48 stars representing the states of this mighty nation. Are we offering more than lip service? The boys on the fighting front in Korea certainly are.

Today's design of our national flag has endured longer than any other in the flag's 174 years. There has been no change in 39 years, since Arizona was granted statehood.

The origin of Old Glory is lost in myth and legend. Historians have discarded the familiar story that Betsy Ross made the first flag from a pencil sketch given her by Washington--a story first told by her grandson 94 years after the supposed event. They also doubt if the devices evolved from Washington's coat of arms.

The colonies had no common flag when the Revolutionary war broke out. The Great Union flag, with 13 alternate red and white stripes and crosses of St. George and St. Andrew, was raised for the first time by Washington in 1776. The crosses symbolized loyalty to the crown and soon fell out of favor.

On June 14, 1777, Congress, by resolution, created the Stars and Stripes. The 13 stripes supplanted the Great Union flag. The stars formed a circle.

Who conceived the idea for the 13 stripes to represent the 13 original colonies, and later the field of stars? The question remains unanswered. The claim of Francis Hopkinson, a signer of the Declaration of Independence, may be the soundest. Records show he received nine pounds for his flag design.

From practical standpoint, the design has stood all tests. In national sentiment it has ever been Americans' loftiest emblem. Other nations boast national ensigns, but in many the original significance is lost in historical mist.

As Americans look aloft to the flag on this Flag Day, they may justifiably sense a new pride in their nation and the politically heritage. The flag's chief symbolism of old still stands---political freedom for all.

Quints Sensibly Trained

The Dionne quintuplets were 17-years-old the other day. These girls, who have attracted worldwide attention since the day they were born to a French Canadian mother in a village in Ontario, have reached the age of young womanhood, old enough for high-heeled shoes and lipstick, dances and thoughts of marriage. While supervision by the Canadian government was beneficial in various ways, the quints had a still greater blessing, the love and care of sensible parents.

They are worth a million dollars in their own right, but none of this was gained through exploitation or vulgar showmanship. They have never been put on exhibition, although the opportunities were almost endless, and at profitable figures. Instead they have been carefully reared and educated to become efficient housewives in the French-Canadian tradition. They do "go with the boys," their father explains, but none so far has thoughts of marriage.

Modern parents, given to indulging their children in matters of money, could find a lesson in the rearing of the Dionne girls in that respect. Until recently their allowance was $2 a month, in spite of their wealth. Now it has been increased to $5, because the girls protested that $2 doesn't buy much these days.

The birthday party was a simple affair. Just one cake, with 17 candles, and a few square dances with the boys in the neighborhood.

Mary's little lamb now would certainly be hedged in by more restrictions than merely being denied admission to school.

Things are not going too well in England, with Dowager Queen Mary in a wheelchair and the labor government on crutches.

Spinal Anesthetic For Some Operations

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN

During its 50-year history, the popularity of spinal anesthesia has waxed and waned many times. Many doctors have been enthusiastic for it at different periods, while others, just as numerous, have regarded it with a certain amout of caution.

Among the things which recommend it is the simplicity with which it can be administered. A needle is introduced into the spinal canal and an anesthetic similar to novocaine is injected. This soon produces numbness over the area to be operated on and induces complete relaxation of the muscles, a very important consideration for the surgeon.

Though this form of anesthela does not put the patient to sleep, it does absolutely prevent pain and its effects are almost immediate. Therefore, it is very handy for use in hospitals where a doctor trained in the handling of anesthetics is not always available. Thus, both doctor and patient are assured of a good anesthetic without the dangers which can result when those that the breathed in must be handled by someone other than a skilled anesthetist.

Possible Complications

Nevertheless, spinal anesthesia is no exception to the rule that all anesthetics have their possible complications. In the first place, patients are likely to fear it to such an extent that, in many instances, even though a spinal anesthetic is successfully given, they must still be put to sleep.

Severe headache is very often another complication and is a cause of much discomfort in the patient who has had spinal anesthesia. The severe headaches occur in about one out of six patients. Conditions such as meningitis and adhesions in the spinal canal, may also occur from spinal anesthesia, and there are instances on record where it has caused partial paralysis.

At Present Time

At the present time, spinal anesthesia is not used as often as it was a few years afo, the reason being the possibility of grave complications. Nowadays, most hospitals are using physician anesthetists and, in their hands, inhalation anesthsia has proved far more successful, with fewer bad results.

However, in certain cases where long anesthesia is required or where a lung condition makes the patient a bad risk for an inhaled anesthetic, it would be advisable to use spinal anesthesia.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

K. V. T.: My feet perspire. Is there anything that can be done for it?

Answer: One who has excessive perspiration of the feet should see to it that the feet are bathed aily, and that clean stockings are worn every day. In addition, a trenty-five per cent solution of aluminum chloride, dabbed on the feet every two or three days, might be used. This will decrease the perspiration.

Father Is Jailed As Son Insists on Wearing Swastika

MOUNT SAVAGE, Md., June 13 —(AP)— A stubborn 17-year-old ninth grade student who insisted on wearing a Nazi swastika in the classroom paved the way for a 30-day jail sentence for his father.

Charles A. Swauger of Frostburg, Md., was put under $250 bond yesterday awaiting circuit court action on his appeal. He was convicted of assaulting J. Orville Kefauver, principal of the Mount Savage Junior High School.

Last Wednesday the boy, George Swauger, came to class sporting a Nazi swastika emblem he'd gotten as a souvenir from a relative in Germany. He refused to remove it although the teacher said it was distracting, and ignored Kefauver's demands to get out of school.

George told his father about the incident and the man had hot words with the principal. According to Kefauver the elder Swauger choked him.

How To Start the Day Off Right

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK, June 13 —(AP)— The little shavers and big shavers of this world have one thing in common. Most of them don't know how to shave.

"Very few men know how to shave properly--only about 10 to 15 percent," says Otto Kraus. And he believes women have an even lower rating average.

Is Kraus a man in a position to tell anybody else how to shave right, he feels he is. He is a top official in the Personna and Pal Blade Companies, which he says are second only to the Gillette people in the nation's $95,000,000 a year razor blade industry.

Hay Boyle

He has made quite a study of shaving. His advice to women shavers is simple:

"1. Don't borrow your husband's razor. Have your own. It makes for a happier home life.

"2. Quit shaving dry. Shave wet."

How about men shavers? They have a raft of problems. What is the best type of raozr? Just why do most men shave wrong? Should they have a picture of Betty Grable by their mirror as they shave?

Kraus says the best shave can be obtained by the old-fashioned straight edge barber's razor. But it takes a lot of time and trouble to become skillful in its use. And too many amateurs in the past lopped off the tip of their noses trying to learn the art. So the safety razor is the best bet in the home.

"Most men make the mistake of not washing their faces thoroughly with hot soap and water before they begin shaving," Kraus said. "You have to do that to get the oil and dirt out of the skin so the beard stands out.

"Whether you use lather or brushless cream, it then should be rubbed in for a full minute before you begin shaving. And it must be kept wet. Otherwise the blade just glides over the caked shaving cream or soap."

The next error?

"The average man holds the razor horizontal to his face and pulls it from the ear hairline to the chin in one stroke. That is like trying to slice a loaf of bread by pushing the knife straight down. You have to slice off your beard just like you slice bread. Use an oblique stroke."

Anything else?

"Yes," said Kraus. "Pull the skin in the opposite direction of your shaving stroke. If you are shaving down, pull the skin up--to get it taut and make the hairs stand out."

Communist Feud in Hollywood

By George Sokolsky

Albert Maltz and Edward Dmytryk were of the notorious Hollywood ten who went to jail rather than say yes or no to being members of the Communist party, which we now know most of them were by collateral testimony. Maltz chooses to remain a Communist and is publicly so in the affairs of the party. Dmytryk testified before the House committee on unAmerican activities that he once was a Communist but now is no more.

Sokolsky

Now along comes Maltz and says Dmytryk is not sincere of heart. In a two-page spread in "The Hollywood Reporter," Maltz publishes an open letter to "The Saturday Evening Post" in which he he does a complete hatchet job on his former pal.

The point at issue is that Dmytryk claims he ceaseq to be a Communist in 1945. Maltz asks:

"....If Dmytryk at last, and finally, learned that he had been associated with a group of malevolent scoundrels whom he now repudiated - then let me ask further: why did his wife continue to function publicly as a member of the committee of the wives of the Hollywood ten? Why also did his wife join mine in August, 1950, in appearing in Sacramento, Calif., before the platform committees of the Democratic and Republican parties and before the convention of the progressive party, to ask all three parties to include a statement on the case of the Hollywood ten in their platform on civil liberaties? And why, at the end of August, did Mrs. Dmytryk join my wife in a common visit to prison? Why did they sleep in the same hotel room, hire a car together, travel 120 miles from Charleston to Mill Point, W. Va., visit, remain over night and travel back together? The prison records show they were together and twenty officers and inmates will testify to it."

Maltz was Dmytryk's best man at the latter's marriage to Jean Porter on May 12, 1948 which was three years after Dmytryk said he ceased to be a Communist. So Maltz wants to know how that happened, which, of course, to ordinary people should mean nothing, for cannot men be friends who differ politically? He even intimates that Dmytryk is a Communist who has gone underground for the duration.

Now, I do not want to get into the row between these pals. The House committee on unAmerican activities ought to have Albert Maltz down to Washington to testify as to this letter. Let the Communists tell their own story in their own way.

But what is serious about all this is that motion pictures and television need to be freed not only from Communist influence but from the reputation of being dominated by Communists and their friends. These industries have been and can be useful to the country not only as amusement and entertainment but as a creative force in mass education.

That makes Hollywood a serious place, one that needs to be watched and studied. Little children get many ideas from the movies and from television: they get them at so early an age that they remain as character-forming phases of the child's life. For instance, such characters as Roy Rodgers and Hopalong Cassidy are substantial forces in the development of national ideals. This must not be regarded as farfetched, because contact with children in any large numbers will establish the correctness of the view.

Furthermore, we face a critical moral situation in this country which involves the re-education of an entire nation. In that re-education, the motion picture industry and the television industry must play as great a role as the school and the college. Traitors at heart and cheap personalities will not do that job for America.

The assumption that Hollywood is made up of the shameless creatures who publicize their vices is false. When one digs through the heap of dirt that has been publicized, it is not difficult to find serious-minded, healthy-thinking Americans who work in the right direction. I call attention to the members of the motion picture alliance who have risked their careers to fight for America.

The work of the House committee on unAmerican activities has been invaluable in the cleansing of Hollywood which must now include television. But it is essential for the public to make a distinction between such creatures as the Hollywood ten and the fine men and women of the motion picture alliance.

Class Picnic Is Held at Strong Home

Members of the Loyal Daughters Class of First Christian Church were entertained at a delightful picnic at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Strong, near New Holland. One long table seated the group for the pleasant supper hour and later the business session was held indoors.

Mrs. Ella Clouser, president, was in charge.

Devotions were led by Mrs. Mary Moss, which included Scripture from the books of Daniel and Ruth and followed with two short poems, entitled "Commonplace" and "Commonplace Prayer" and closed with prayer.

The usual reports were heard and it was decided to decorate the church for the choir concert Friday evening and the sale of Christmas cards will again be a project of the class. The resignation of the class president, Mrs Ella Clouser and vice president, Mrs. Homer Flint were accepted and those chosen to fill the offices were Mrs. Robert L. Vance, and Mrs. Ralph Hickman. Guests included with the nineteen members were Mr. O. W. Kelley, Mr. D. F Strong, and Bobby and Dickie Welsh and assistant hostesses were Mrs. O. W. Kelly and Mrs Mary Moss.

The opening devotionals were led by Mrs. Thornton who read Scripture and closed with prayer.

The usual reports were heard and accepted and Mrs. Madison Swope chairman of the project reported that the vestments which were made by the members had been completed.

It was voted to present a liberal donation to each of the Bloomingburg churches.

The program included music and talks by each past hostess and their assistant.

The first was a vocal solo by Mrs. Madison Swope accompanied by Mrs. Harold Pope, another vocal solo by Mrs. Edgar McIntosh, accompanied by Mrs. Joe Elliott, a reading by Mrs. Walter P. Noble and Mrs. Willard Bitzer, a clever pantomine by Mrs. Alice Cory, an original poem by Mrs. Donald Mossbarger, group singing accompanied by Mrs. Don Sollars.

A vocal solo by Mrs. Glen Davis Jr., a Bible reading by Mrs. John Glenn, reading by Mrs. Guy Tucker and a contest by Mrs. Lloyd Iden.

Mrs. Thornton had as her assisting hostesses Mrs. Wells Reinoehl and Mrs. Clyde Cramer.

Included as guests were Mrs. Lucille Creath, Mrs. Dale Thornton and Mrs. Arthur Engle.

For a different luncheon dish serve a sauce of minced clams with garlic and butter added over hot cooked spaghetti. Add a green salad and French or Italian bread.

A breakfast which includes fruit, cereal, milk, bread and butter will supply from one fourth to one third of the day's food needs.

Ohio Congressman Fined for 'Kickbacks'

WASHINGTON, June 13 —(AP)—Rep. Walter E. Brehm (R-Ohio) was fined $5,000 yesterday on his conviction for violating the corrupt practices act.

Federal Judge Burnita S. Matthews also gave Brehm a suspended jail sentence of five to 15 months. The congressman's attorney said he will file an appeal, which probably will not be considered until next fall.

The 58-year-old congressman was convicted by a federal court jury here April 30 of illegally accepting $1,000 in campaign contributions from Mrs. Emma S. Craven while she was a clerk in his congressional office in 1948.

Convicted of five separate violations of the act, Brehm could have received as much as 15 years in jail and $25,000 in fines. The act makes it a crime to take political donations from federal employes.

Son's Return Asked After Brother Is Killed in Korea

CINCINNATI, June 13—(AP)— A Cincinnati couple who lost one of their two sons in the Korean fighting has asked Sen. Robert A. Taft's help in returning the surviving son from Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lilienthal made the request. Their younger son, Pfc. Herbert C. Lilienthal, was killed in action May 22. His brother, M-Sgt. Alfred Lilienthal, was recalled to active duty last fall and subsequently sent overseas.

The parents made their request in line with an army policy concerning sole surviving sons. When two or more sons are in the army overseas and all but one are killed, the army will return the surviving son to the United States to complete his tour of duty.

New Military Bases Proposed; Face Close Congress Scrutiny

BY CLARENCE J. BROWN

Up to June 1, the 82nd Congress had not enacted any legislation of major importance--a "do nothing" record unequaled in the nation's legislative history. Last week, however, conference reports on three important bills were adopted by both branches of the Congress and the measures sent to the White House. One of the bills now before the president extends the reciprocal trade agreements act, in amended form, for two years. Another authorizes a $190,000,000 loan to India, to purchase American wheat and other food stuffs, to relieve present famine conditions in that country. The third extends the selective service act, for four years, with amendments previously discussed in this column.

* * *

The Senate commmittee on post office and civil service, last week voted to send to the Senate floor a bill which would increase the pay of all postal workers by 8.8 percent, and other government workers in the classified service by 8.4 percent. The measure is expected to be called up for Senate consideration soon.

* * *

Sixteen members of the House left Washington Friday night for a week of conferences in Paris with Gen. Eisenhower, supreme commander of the North Atlantic Pact forces, and other officials, relative to President Truman's recent request for an additional congressional appropriation of $8.5 billion for foreign military and economic aid.

* * *

Inasmuch as the life of the present defense production act expires at midnight June 30, it now appears certain the measure will die at that time unless a simple resolution to extend the law temporarily is adopted. The Congress will not grant governmental agencies the broad new powers and authorities, including the right to license all business and industry, as the president has requested. Instead some of the sections of the present defense production act may be eliminated or restricted before extension of the law is voted. A six months extension of DPA seems to be about as much as the administration can obtain from Congress at this time.

* * *

The Senate last week, by a vote of 50 to 28, authorized the central Arizona project, putting an end to the controversial "water" issue which has been before the Congress for many years. The project, which would provide a new dam on the Colorado River at a cost of $780,000,000, won Senate approval after an amendment prohibiting any appropriation of expenditure of federal funds for this work during the present national emergency had been adopted.

* * *

Seth W. Richardson, a former Republican, who was appointed by the president as chairman of the controversial Loyalty Review Board, and later as head of the Subversives Control Board, last week resigned because of his health. Both boards headed by Richardson were under fire for failure to take action in the Hiss and Remington cases prior to the conviction of both men.

* * *

Unless the House leadership changes its legislative plans, the new tax bill will be up for debate and a vote in the House next week. As reported by the ways and means committee, the bill will raise federal taxes on incomes of individuals and corporations and through excise tax increases, by an estimated $7.2 billion a year.

* * *

The Truman administration is expected to send to Capitol Hill this week or next a bill calling for expenditures of some $7 billion for construction of new military, naval and air bases. The bill will provide for the construction of new military projects in every state of the union, as well as in many other sections of the world. One major item in the new plan would be for a great expansion in air force bases. Included, also, will be additional facilities for military research, navy shore establishments, and re-activated army camps. There are still so many air fields and military installations in good condition left from World War II which have not yet been used during the present emergency, that Congress will give the new military construction program careful scrutiny.

* * *

Rumor has it that when Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, who until recently was chief intelligence officer in the Far East, appears before the special Senate committee investigating the MacArthur dismissal he will name names and give details of spy activities, both abroad and at home in our government departments that will shock the nation.

* * *

The Wage Stabilization Board has been giving special wage raises above the general 10 percent ceiling or wage increase limit fixed by DPA so regularly of late that Capitol Hill wags have renamed that agency "The Wage Stimulation Board". Rumor has it the present 10 percent limit on pay increases over the January 1950 wage rate may soon be increased to 15 percent.

The price war in many states, as well as the drop in wholesale prices of many commodities recently, has many government economists worried. Some think the present situation marks the passing of the inflationary peak, and that deflation is now in the making. Others insist the situation only indicates the buying panic which followed the beginning of the Korean war is over and that shortages will appear and prices begin to climb this autumn when defense production gets into full swing.

Plans All Set Now For FFA Corn Field

The Future Farmers of America chapter of Washington C. H. High School today had everything all set for taking care of their 12-acre corn field near the Producers Stockyards.

The corn field is one of the FFA projects.

Dave Fabb was named to take what amounts to custodian of the field and supervisor of the project. He was given the key to the locked gate. And, he will determine when the field needs cultivating. FFA members living in the vicinity, it was said, are to take their equipment to do the work.

Roger Gorman gave the field its cultivation treatment Tuesday. Larry Stephenson is to take on the cultivation when it needs it again.

Plans for caring for their corn project were made at the chapter's Monday night meeting at Washington C. H. High School.

Besides, plans for the chapter's display at the Fair were discussed at considerable length.

Dick Hughes reported on the FFA convention in Columbus, May 31-June 2.

How Did WHS Lions Get Name?

Sports of 20 years Ago Here Are Recalled by Ted Shipley

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Not many of the younger generations of sports followers here know how the WHS Lions got their name or who was the moving spirit in introducing softball in Washington C. H. . . . or when.

BY TED SHIPLEY

The Record-Herald has been coming as regularly as clock work and to say that I enjoy it greatly, is to put it lightly. I devour almost every word trying to find out what is going on in my old home town, and also trying to piece out the gap of over 20 years during which time I heard little or nothing of the doings of my old friends back there.

Noticed in one of the more recent issues, where the Class of 1926 of Washington High School was planning its 25th anniversary, with Howard Dellinger as chairman. Really, it seems only yesterday, when I watched Howard, or "Dink", as most of us knew him, explode through opposing high school football lines, or circle the ends, in a day when football did not include the "razzle dazzle" of today or at least much of it.

In those days, Washington High School played in the South Central Ohio interscholastic league, with Wilmington, Greenfield, Hillsboro, Chillicothe, Circleville and Frankfort as other members of the seven team league. And many were the typewritten battles, I, as sports writer for the old Washington C. H. Herald staged with Kroger Babb, then the sports editor of the Wilmington News-Journal.

I believe I can claim the credit for naming Washington High School athletic teams of the present. In the twenties, about the only name the WHS teams had was Blue and White, from their school colors. I got tired of writing that name so often, and set about to find one more suitable.

* * *

ONE EVENING I was reading a story about the Nittany Lions of Penn State, which recalled a football game in Springfield in November 1918, when a scrappy band of Washington High School youngsters rolled into that city 13 strong and defeated the Springfield High eleven, 20 to 13. At that time Springfield had one of the most powerful teams in western Ohio; and the same eleven WHS players who started that game, finished it. The two subs did not leave the bench during the entire game.

In his writeup of the game, one of the Springfield sports writers penned the following, "They came in like lambs being led to the slaughter--they went out like Lions". I don't remember just who all the Washington lads were in that game, but think Dick and Pete Willis were two of them, along with Tommy Rogers. I remember writing the story for Bob Harper, then the Herald's sports editor, in November of 1918.

As I say, this game flashed through my mind, and the name Blue Lions came into being. I used it many times in my writeups in the late twenties, and for many years, it was the official cognomen of WHS athletic teams. See it has been recently trimmed to Lions.

* * *

ANOTHER THING I think I can take credit for, is being one of the founders of softball as a sport in Washington C. H. about 1928, one of my friends, who had seen the game played by National Guard teams at Camp Perry, asked me if I would not try to start a league in WCH. So, assisted by a group of my friends, I laid out some sort of a diamond on what was then known as Willis Park, just across Jupiter Street from the end of Briar Avenue, in Millwood. We got six or eight teams together.

I remember I put a Herald Printers team in the league, with some of the players being Ernie Lowe and Henry Hixon (who died a year or two later) from the Herald plant, Bud Dews, then a Linotype operator at the old Record-Republican plant and several youngsters. The latter group including Jack Witherspoon, Dick Cockerill and Wallace Fite, with the latter the pitcher.

We used the old outseam softball, and I still have two very crooked fingers on my right hand, from trying to handle Fite's southpaw pitches behind the plate.

The next year several businessmen, including Homer (Speed) Ruley and Charles (Turkey) Bryant, then proprietors of the old Bryant and Ruley Restaurant on West Court Street, and Willard Wilson of Wilson's Hardware, owner of the present baseball field, got interested. We moved the diamond to the Gardner Field just south of the creek on Main Street.

Fred Jones was one of the leading pitchers of the league, and some of the other players I recall at the moment were Ott Reno, Carl Noon, Wally Noon, Tom Doyle, Bob and Lawrence Moss, and I believe both Bryant and Ruley played themselves, for a year or so at least. That was around 1928 or 1929.

* * *

MANY YEARS (more than two decades) have rolled by since then, and I have often wondered what happened to many of my friends of those days. None of the names of present day softball players are familiar. One more thing, I would like to get into this letter. I graduated from Washington High School with the class of 1914, the first one to graduate from the school in what I believe is still located on North Street, between Temple and Paint Streets.

In our freshman and sophomore years, the Class of 1914, went to high school in the two story brick building on Temple Street, and the old ramshackle three story, Central School building, occupied the North Street side of the lot.

During our junior year, the old Central School building was torn down and the Washington High School building erected in its place. Juniors and seniors of the year 1913-14 went to school at Cherry Hill School, the juniors in the morning and the seniors in the afternoon. Some of the high school teachers of those days were Miss Amy V. Conn, Mrs. Haidee Van Winkle Coffman, Prof. O. K. Probasco, who was principal in my senior year. Fred McElwain was athletic director and coach of the football and basketball teams.

I presume this Class of 1914 will attempt to hold its 40th reunion in 1954, if so, and I am still among the living at that time, I hope to come back for a few days.

* * *

MEANWHILE I AM doing all right in California. I am now connected with the sports department of the San Jose Mercury and San Jose Evening News, as a bowling writer and publicist--also write an occasional baseball story. In addition, I have my own bowling publication, the Santa Clara Ten Pin Topics, and fully expect to be named state publicity director for the California State Bowling Association when that organization's executive board meets in August. This is one of the biggest state organizations in the United States, our most recent state tournament at Richmond, Calif., attracted 643 five-man teams, and 2242 individual entries in doubles and singles. The Association was only organized six years ago. Next year, we hold our tournament in Los Angeles, we expect to have over 1,000 teams in action.

However, I would like to hear from some of my old friends in the Court House and vicinity. My old friends can write at either of two addresses, my office--home, 28 South Second Street, San Jose, Calif., or in care of the San Jose Mercury-News sports department, 211 West Santa Clara Street, San Jose, Calif. I would really appreciate hearing from some of them.

The last three no-hit games to be pitched in the major leagues were night games. The pitchers were Lemon, Barney and Bickford.

Giants Top Reds 6-3 in Tenth

Irvin Slams Homer With Two on for Win

BY RALPH RODEN

(By The Associated Press)

All it took was one mighty swing and when the smoke cleared, that one stroke had upped the New York Giants to second place and tumbled the Cincinnati Reds to third.

The big blow was off the club of outfielder Monte Irvin of the Giants. It broke a 10th inning 3-3 deadlock wide open and gave the Giants a 6-3 win.

The up-and-coming New Yorkers got themselves a two-run lead off Kenny Raffensberger in the first and second innings, only to see it erased by Bob Scheffing's second homer of the year.

Ted Kluszewski singled to left to open the fourth for Cincinnati and took second when Bob Thomson let the ball go through his legs. Virgil Stallcup's pop fly fell safely in short right for a single. Then Scheffing hammered in all three Cincinnati runs with a drive over the leftfield barrier to put the Reds ahead 3-2.

The 10th proved the Reds' downfall. Dark singled to center to open. Thomson sacrificed and Westrum was passed purposely. Irvin then sent the ball screaming 390 feet over the leftfield fence near the scoreboard.

* * *

UNTIL NOW, LOU Kretlow's chief claim to fame was:

1. He received a $35,000 bonus to sign with Detroit in 1946.

2. He was shipped to St. Louis along with $100,000 by Detroit for Jerry Priddy in 1949.

Lanky Lou has blossomed into a winning pitcher for the amazing Chicago White Sox. The Sox picked him up for a song from the Browns last year.

Kretlow, who failed as a starter early in the season, faced Washington last night as the Sox opened their second tour of the east. Lou came through with the first shutout of his major league career--a brilliant 3-0, four-hit job.

The victory enabled the Sox, winner of seven straight the last time they visited the east, to boost their lead to 3½ games over the runner-up New York Yankees. The Yanks were upset, 5-1, by the lowly St. Louis Browns.

* * *

DUANE PILLETTE, exiled to the Browns a year ago, came back and haunted the Yanks at the stadium. The slim righthander stopped the Bombers on four scratch hits.

The Cleveland Indians moved to within a game of the third place Boston Red Sox, outlasting the Philadelphia Athletics, 8-6, in a night game at Philadelphia. The Red Sox dropped a 7-3 decision to the Detroit Tigers under the flood lights at Boston.

Cleveland's Bob Feller, with help in the ninth from Lou Birssie and Mike Garcia, gained credit for his ninth victory. The A's rallied in the ninth, pushing one run home and placing the potential tying runs on base. Garcia stopped the threat by getting Gus Zernial to fly out.

Preacher Roe provided the fireworks in the National League.

Roe turned in his ninth victory without a loss as he pitched the pace-setting Brooklyn Dodgers to a 6-2 victory over the Cardinals in St. Louis. Home runs by Jackie Robinson and Gil Hodges gave Roe an early margin.

Johnny Sain coasted to his fourth victory of the season as the Boston Braves humbled the Pittsburgh Pirates, 13-3.

The Philadelphia Phillies came from behind and beat the Chicago Cubs, 6-5.

Richard Pocock, who builds the shells for Yale racing, is descended from a family of English boat builders. He came to this country in 1911.

Softball Rained Out Last Night

Rain took a definite decision over softball at Wilson Field Tuesday evening, when an exhibition game and city league game were called off due to the overabundance of moisture in the air.

Randall Machine Co. of Wilmington was scheduled to open the evening with the Welding School team, but the game was called off.

The second game between the VFW and the W. C. French teams was also postponed.

No date has been set for either of the postponed games.

So far in the city league series W. C. French and the Welding School are tied for first place with three wins and no losses.

The standings are:

Team	W	L
W. C. French	3	0
Welding School	3	0
Armco	2	1
Penningtons	2	1
Rocking Chair	1	2
VFW Post	1	2
NCR	0	3
Armbrust	0	3

Tonight's Softball

Welding School vs. Wilmington Randall Machine Shop at Wilson Field starting at 7:30 P. M.

VFW vs. W. C. French at Wilson Park following first game.

Bowling Association Officers Are Named

Carl Noon was elected president of the City Bowling Association for the coming year, at the annual meeting of the board of directors of the association at Anderson's Drive Inn.

Other officers elected were; Gib Bireley, first vice president; Charles Dunton, second vice president; Richard Witherspoon, secretary and Harry Thrailkill.

The other main subject of discussion was the approval of the American Bowling Congress regulation of sanctioning individual players rather than sanctioning the whole team.

This means that each member must submit to the city association an application which is passed on to the National Bowling Congress. Members so sanctioned are able to participate in bowling matches anywhere in the country.

Young Man Killed On His First Job

NOLENSVILLE, Tenn., June 13 —(AP)—James Edward Lowe received his engineering degree at Vanderbilt University Sunday night. He had a job with an electrical contracting firm awaiting him.

The youth was killed on that job yesterday—less than 16 hours after his graduation—while helping rewire a house.

Lowe's employer, said the 22-year-old Eagleville, Tenn., engineer died of electric shock when a power drill he was operating developed a short circuit.

Garment Workers Quit In Contract Dispute

NEW YORK, June 13 —(AP)—Sixty-five thousand garment workers today began the first major work stoppage in the industry in 25 years.

Israel Feinberg, manager of the Cloak Joint Board of the AFL International Garment Workers Union said the stoppage, resulting from a contract dispute was 100 percent effective.

There are believed to be about 400,000 production workers in the U. S. paper industry.

NEW YORK, June 13—(AP)—The roar of 10 engines on a B-36 the eerie whine of an air force rocket, the voices of mountain moon-shiners—put them all together and you have a typical program for CBS' "Hear It Now."

This weekly "Document for Ear," heard Fridays at 9 P. M., regularly brings the voices of people in the news from President Harry Truman to GIs in Korean combat into your living room.

CBS news correspondents haul tape recorders all over the world to pick up material. In recent weeks they have recorded comments of a B-36 crew during a day-and-a-half long training flight, the sound of super-secret rockets soaring miles into space at White Sands, N. M., and the philosophizing of mountain moonshiners in Virginia.

Television service men point out that there seems to be a certain amount of confusion among set owners changing from smaller to larger screen receivers. They want to know if the antenna should be changed too.

The answer, say the TV servicers, is this: "if an antenna gives good reception on the small screen, it will work just as well with a new and larger set. Size of the set has nothing to do with the efficiency of the antenna, provided it is equipped with the proper lead-in wire."

More Beef on Hoof

week before. Even as this became known, Senator Maybank (D-SC) announced an investigation to see if "this (beef) shortage is nothing more than a strike on the part of the meat industry."

Maybank told newsmen the beef inquiry will begin tonight (6:30 P. M., EST) by the Senate-House committee on defense production, which he heads. He called the night session because members of the joint committee are busy during the day in Senate and House banking committees. Both banking committees are working under pressure to complete a new bill to extend wage, price and rent controls. The present defense production act expires June 30.

Maybank said livestock producers, meat packers and other industry representatives will testify at the probe.

"If a shortage is being created because of a sulking reaction by people who won't deliver meat because they can't have their way," Maybank said, "then the people of the nation should be advised accordingly."

Rep. Celler (D-NY) suggested, meanwhile, that consumers "strike" against eating beef "if the cattle and packing interest do not stop their pressure threats to avoid price controls.

Although DiSalle told reporters increase stockyard receipts made him happy, he said the upturn was not "a break in the situation." He has insisted since ordering a ten percent live beef price rollback that any shortage would be temporary. But, he said, yesterday, the situation will not clear overnight.

On the clothing order, DiSalle only said the rollback will provide a base pricing period of three months in the pre-Korean period.

"Manufacturers will be allowed to select the three consecutive months on that basis and will be granted markups for rises in materials and labor costs," the price boss said in an interview shortly after arriving in Denver by plane.

The government today extended for one week -- until June 25--the date for retailers of regular beef to post ceiling price charts in their stores.

The lists were due to be put up next Monday. Kosher beef ceiling charts were posted in stores yesterday.

The Office of Price Stabilization said the delay in posting prices for regular beef is allowed to be certain all stores have ample time to obtain the price lists furnished by OPS. The charts list dollars and cents ceilings for various cuts and grades of beef by zones across the country.

In another order today, OPS said that effective tomorrow, canners may figure new ceilings on new potatoes and rhubarb produced in all states for canning; broccoli and brussels sprouts produced in California, Washington and Oregan; and fresh field peas produced in the southern states.

MINISTER'S WIFE TELLS HOW HADACOL WAS SO HELPFUL

HADACOL Helps Folks With Weak, Run-Down Conditions, Poor Appetite, When Caused by Deficiencies of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron

A week, run-down condition can make life mighty drab for folks who feel that way. Imagine not having a good appetite. Loss of weight and energy oftimes accompany this condition. When Mrs. Ardena Longaker, a minister's wife, who lives at Rt. 5, Meadowbrook Rd., North Kansas City, Mo., began feeling that way she began taking HADACOL for she had heard how it was helping people with weak, run-down conditions and poor appetite, when due to a deficiency of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron. Now, Mrs. Longaker says she feels good and is recommending HADACOL to her friends.

Mrs. Longaker

Here is what she says:

"I am a minister's wife and am 39 years old. I was run-down, lost weight, was listless, and had no appetite at all. I'm on my fifth bottle now and am amazed at the results. I want to eat all the time now. Most of all, I'm glad to say, I've gained several pounds. HADACOL is so economical, I believe almost anyone can afford it, and I do recommend it to my friends."

HADACOL now makes it possible to actually relieve the REAL CAUSE of weak, run-down conditions, stomach distress, nervousness, poor appetite and nagging aches and pains when due to the lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron in the system.

AND LISTEN TO THIS! Continued use of this great HADACOL not only gives continuous complete relief but helps keep such painful distress from returning when caused by such deficiencies. Now that's the kind of product you have been waiting for. That's the kind you should buy and start taking at once.

And HADACOL'S wonderful Vitamins and Minerals come in special pleasant liquid form so they are quickly absorbed and assimilated in the blood, ready to go to work at once.

HADACOL IS SO EFFECTIVE

Because HADACOL helps build up the hemoglobin content of your blood (when Iron is needed) to carry these precious Vitamins and Minerals to every organ and to every part of your body.

You may have tried other Vitamin preparations or other Vitamins and Mineral preparations, so we make you this offer. Try a bottle of HADACOL today. You be the judge. If you do not believe that HADACOL is the best Vitamin and Mineral preparation you have ever taken, we will gladly send you back your money. That's our positive money-back guarantee.

So be fair to yourself. Don't go through life suffering from these conditions when caused by lack of Vitamins B1, B2, Niacin and Iron, when relief may be as close at hand as your nearest drug store.

REFUSE SUBSTITUTES

There's only one HADACOL. Don't let anyone tell you something else is "just as good." Insist on genuine HADACOL. You risk nothing because HADACOL is sold on a strict money-back guarantee.

Sold at all drug stores. Trial size, $1.25, but buy the large family-size, only $3.50.

Price Control Topic at Meet

Lively Session Held by Grangers

Government control of prices and wages came in for a lively bit of discussion at a meeting of the Selden Grange Tuesday night.

Also the question of whether a non-partisan organization, such as the Grange, could properly discuss such controversial issues was brought up. The consensus of opinion was, that it was not only a proper function but also the duty of the Grange to express opinions and formulate policies on such matters.

The national and state granges and nearly all subordinate Granges are on record as opposed to controls except in times of unquestioned emergency.

Mrs. Miriam Bush, Selden Grange lecturer, conducted an interesting safety program. She referred to the accidents among small children and suggested as a slogan to follow, "Care a Lot and Save a Tot".

Lorene Sollars read an article, "He Forgot", on tractor accidents.

"Garden Accidents", was discussed by Anna Alice Frayne, and "Safety in the Cow Barn" by Herbert Perrill.

Ralph Nisley stated that automobile accident insurance costs were based on the accident rate, and that careful, alert and courteous driving on the part of everyone would pay off in lives saved and lower rates.

After the meeting ham sandwiches, pickles and coffee were served by Mr. and Mrs. Otties Smith, Helen Perrill, and Herbert Perrill.

Eber 4-H Learns Pattern Layout

The problem of laying out a dress pattern on material was the subject demonstrated to the members of the Eber Merry Makers 4-H Club during their business meeting Tuesday evening at the home of Patty Ault.

Mrs. Marie Senner, club advisor, showed the girls how to place the patterns so as to save on material. She also discussed marking the pattern and pinning.

Following the demonstration, the girls placed their dress patterns on the material they had selected and cut them out. They also continued hemming dish towels.

Patty and Jane Kuebler were introduced to the group as new members of the club.

Betty Howard and Beverly Sprague conducted the meeting as part of the club's training program. They are the news reporter and secretary of the club.

Ludene Torbett will be the hostess for the next meeting at her home Tuesday evening, June 19. Betty Howard will assist in serving the refreshments.

Merry Maidens To Make Aprons

Mary Ellen Allison, hostess of the Merry Maidens 4-H Club meeting Tuesday evening, gave a demonstration cutting out apron patterns during the meeting.

The girls then selected material with which to make their own aprons.

By next meeting the members will have their aprons cut out and hemmed.

Charlene Wolfe will be the hostess for the next meeting of the group at her home Friday evening June 15.

Chief Deputy Has Resigned Position

Miss Mary Frances Snider, chief deputy and bookkeeper in the office of County Treasurer Charles Fabb has resigned.

Her resignation is effective July 15. She then takes up work with the First Federal Savings and Loan Association.

Miss Snyder has been with the treasurer's office for two years. Her successor has not been appointed.

County Courts

WILL SUSTAINED

Late Wednesday forenoon the jury sitting in the will contest case of Jesse White and others, against executors of the Lona G. Hughey estate and other defendants, returned an instructed verdict for the defendant, sustaining the will.

After the evidence was all in, Judge Marion B. Owens, of Urbana, instructed the jury to return a verdict sustaining the will.

DIVORCE ASKED

Charles Rinehart, married in Fayette County Sept. 7, 1937, has filed suit against Anna Rinehart for divroce, on grounds of abandonment and gross neglect of duty. He asks custody of their six minor children. Charles S. Hire represents the plaintiff.

SEEKS SEPARATION

Married in Cynthiana, Ky., August 6, 1949, Phyllis Wilson has filed her petition for divorce from Earl Wilson on grounds of gross neglect of duty. Custody of their child and support for the child are asked by the plaintiff, who is represented by W. W. Hill.

DIVORCE ASKED

Barbara L. Bellar, married to Ralph A. Bellar in Greenup, Ky., Nov. 2, 1947, has filed her petition for divorce on grounds of gross neglect of duty, stating that the defendant is now confined in the Ohio Reformatory. She asks custody of their two children and other relief. Charles S. Hire represents the plaintiff.

SEEKS ACCOUNTING

William S. McNeil, in a court action against William Campbell and Fayette Farms, asks for an accounting. He is represented by James M. Drennen of Waverly.

The plaintiff states that on March 22, 1949 he entered into an agreement with the defendant to farm 105 acres of defendant's lands and furnished certain farm equipment and was to farm on the thirds. The defendant had 30 head of dairy cattle and plaintiff was to get one-third of the milk check.

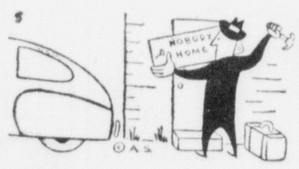

Plaintiff states that the defendant purchased equipment to handle the milk and deducted one-third of the cost from plaintiff's milk check.

Plaintiff also lists having paid $700 for farm labor and feeding most of the product of the farm. The defendant sold 56 head of hogs and gave the plaintiff one-third.

McNeil further states that he left the farm in Feb. 1951, and that the defendant has refused to make an accounting. He asks that the defendant be required to make such an accounting.

The answers to everyday insurance problems * By Leonard Korn and Dana Hyer

QUESTION: My husband's firm is temporarily transferring him to another community to assist in opening a new branch office. We plan to be away for several months and will close our home here during our absence. Should we notify our fire insurance company that our house will be unoccupied?

ANSWER: In this state occupancy of an insured dwelling is not required in order to keep the insurance in force provided the dwelling is in a "protected" area served by a city fire department. If the dwelling is in a rural area you should notify the Company if the home is to be vacant for more than a few days.

*If you'll address your own insurance questions to this office, we'll try to give you the correct answers and there will be no charge or obligation of any kind.

Veterinarians at Meeting at OSU

At least three of the county's veterinarians have made plans to attend the three-day meeting of Ohio State University's 20th annual conference of veterinarians.

Those from Fayette County who plan to attend the sessions are J. Arthur McCoy and D. R. Junk of the Washington C. H. community. D. E. Mossbarger of Bloomingburg was at the session Wednesday.

New discoveries and techniques of veterinary medicine will be outlined at the conference which will be held on the campus of the university. Thirty-two speakers from the university, Ohio agricultural experiment station and elsewhere will appear at the technical sessions.

Union Twp. FB To Have Display

Members of the Union Township Farm Bureau Council No. 1 enjoyed a picnic dinner at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Thompson at their June meeting.

The council's work in obtaining rural fire protection for Union Township will be the theme of their exhibit at the Fayette County Fair. Members of the council were assisted by the Union Township trustees and the fire department of Washington C. H.

The next council meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Engle.

Heavy Rainfall Over Wide Area

Heavy rains fell in this city and over a large area in the county late Tuesday afternoon and during the night, with a total precipitation of .88 of an inch recorded here.

In the path of the storm corn cultivation was halted for several days.

The rain fell so fast that dozens of places in the streets were flooded by overtaxed or clogged sewers.

Jeff Jolly Homemakers Work on Projects

Members of the Jeff Jolly Homemakers 4-H Club had a busy session recently. The first year girls continued their work on tea towels while the second year girls were given a demonstration by Mrs. H. E. Walls on the laying of patterns for aprons.

Mrs. Ralph Davidson handed out daily health cards to aid the girls in keeping their health records. Light refreshments were served near the close of the meeting.

The next meeting is to be held June 14 at the home of May Ann Creamer.

Keen Teen 4-H Club Discusses Projects

The group also talked about a bake sale set for June 16 at the First Federal Savings and Loan Association office. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Litz and Patty. The next meeting will be held at the home of Kay Brown June 14.
